Advice to other entrepreneurs: Be true to yourself.

What about your company keeps you up at night? I am lucky to have great people working at McCree. If it were not for them, I probably would not sleep very well.

What executive/CEO do you most admire and why? Sandy Shugart is a true visionary and I respect him and what he has done for the community tremendously.

What do you expect your 2016 revenue to be? $45 million

How will your company reach the next level? Hiring the right people

What are your company's long-term goals? To continue to design and build quality facilities, maintain a healthy growth model, retain and hire excellent people and be good stewards to the communities we live and build in.

What are you investing profits into? People and technology
